Why should you convert to green cleaners?

- Helps you meet green purchasing mandates
- Promotes a healthier working environment
- Improves safety for janitorial workers
- Reduces your office's environmental footprint
- Green purchasing is an important element of an Environmental Management System (EMS) now required for all federal facilities
- Helps position your office as a leader in the use of sustainable business practices

Are You Cleaning GREEN?

Symbols

If you see this symbol you will know that the products meet the strict energy efficiency guidelines set by the EPA and U.S. Department of Energy.

Products carrying the Green Seal certification mean the products meet strict environmental testing and evaluation standards.

The Recycled symbol identifies products made from recycled materials. Look for items with the highest amount of post-consumer content.
